Perhaps Senator McLaurin is not as anxious to return to private life as he pretends to be.

The value of merchandise cleared from the port of New Orleans for the month of May was $48,395,598, an increase of $9,760,081 over May of last year.

King Edward has reduced the number of his private chaplains from thirty-six to twelve, from which it may be inferred that he thinks he isn't more than one-third as bad as he used to be.

A New Orleans policeman is said to have refused an offer of $1,000,000 for land which he owns in the Texas oil belt, and still sticks to the billet. He isn't taking the chances of throwing up a sure job like that for $1,000,000.

A Philadelphia female "bachelor" club has ceased to meet. It was composed of sixteen members, but twelve of these have married, three are engaged and the one solitary remnant does not care to meet all by herself.

The automobile is scorching right along to the front. In a long distance race in France the other day between different makes one covered 345 miles in eight hours and forty-four minutes, an average of thirty-nine and a half miles per hour. But they have good roads in that country.

The oldest family in Pennsylvania dates back to 1684, when the paternal and maternal heads emigrated from Germany and struck Pennsylvania. They belong to the Shoemaker tribe. As there are still a good many of them in that town they seem disposed to stick to the last.

A Savannah dispatch announces that a citizen of that town had just closed a deal for 175,000 acres of heavily-wooded pine timber lands in Florida for $500,000. It covers an area of about 273 square miles. He proposes to farm it out for other fellows to slaughter. Items like this always make us mad.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates the cotton acreage planted this year at 27,532,000 acres, an increase of 8.3 per cent. over that of last year, and 10 per cent. over the acreage actually picked last year. But with the damages from rains, bad stands, etc., the crop may not be as large as that of last year.

THE CRIMINAL COURT

The Day's Proceedings Yesterday Were Without Special Interest to General Public.

ONE SENTENCE TO ROADS.

And Judgment Reserved in Cases of Several Other Defendants—Jurors Summoned for To-day—Term May Extend Into Next Week.

Yesterday's session of the Criminal Court, though lasting practically all day, was without special interest.

In printing yesterday's proceedings of the court, the name of Mr. F. T. Mills appeared on the docket as charged with assault and battery with a deadly weapon. The matter has already been adjusted, Mr. Mills having submitted it at the beginning of the term, paid the cost and cleared it from the calendar.

The following proceedings were had yesterday:

King Bell, assault and battery; judgment open.

Ann Pollock, larceny; not guilty.

Leroy Perry, submitted to assault and battery; three months on road.

Jno. Rowland, assault and battery with deadly weapon; not guilty.

Wm. Simon, concealed weapons, submitted; fined $5 and costs.

King Bell, concealed weapons, submitted; judgment open.

The grand jury returned the following true bills: George W. Price, Jr., disposing of mortgaged property (two cases); John Hudson, concealed weapons; John Hudson, assault and battery with deadly weapon; L. Herring, larceny; Tony Hart, false pretence; Mary Campbell, concealed weapons.

The following talesmen were summoned for duty today: John C. Boesch, S. Sneeden, J. B. Hewlett, H. L. Barden, J. H. Boatwright, J. O. Brown, J. S. Brock, J. B. Sandlin, B. F. King, W. G. Webb, W. N. Cronly, H. W. Konig, W. F. LeGwin T. C. Bray, J. H. Taylor, J. W. Cooper, R. H. Brady, P. T. Stevenson and L. J. Mason.

The court adjourned at 5:30 o'clock until to-day at 9:30 A. M. Solicitor Duffy and Judge Bryan are using all possible dispatch to clean up the docket, but it is believed that the session will extend over into the coming week.

SHADELAND DAIRY BURNED.

Buildings Totally Consumed With About One-half Insurance—Will be Rebuilt.

"Shadeland Dairy," situated one mile from the city, on the Market street road, and belonging to Mr. Alex. O. McEachern, of Wilmington, was totally consumed by fire, which originated yesterday morning about 10:30 o'clock, presumably from a defective flue leading through the roof of the milk house. Thirty-two cows and two horses were gotten out of the building without injury.

Mr. McEachern's loss is about $1,000, with insurance amounting to $600, of which amount $400 is with Col. Walker Taylor.

The dairy will be rebuilt at once and there will be no interference with the filling of orders as usual.

Shaw, president of the Organ Fund Society, and Mr. Chas. E McMillen, inspected the interior of the church yesterday morning and found that some few alterations are necessary in the rear of the church, of which Mr. McMillan will have charge. It is hoped to have the organ completed by the first of November.

THE COUNTY TAX LEVY.

Magistrates Met Yesterday at Noon and Adopted Rate—About the Issuance of Bonds for County Roads.

The magistrates of the county met at noon yesterday at the Court House, 66 out of 89 having answered to roll call. Mr. C. W. Worth was made chairman by acclamation and Chairman D. McEachern, of the Board of County Commissioners, by request, stated that the object of the meeting was to pass upon the tax levy for the current year as fixed by the commissioners. He then stated the action of the Board in fixing the tax levy at 45 cents per hundred dollars on real and personal property and $1.35 on the poll. This, upon motion of Maj. W. H. Bernard, was adopted, and by amendment of Capt. Jno. H. Hanby, the written report of Chairman McEachern in detail was adopted and the newspapers of the city requested to publish the same, as follows:

The Board of County Commissioners of New Hanover recommend the following tax levy for the current year.

	Prop.	Pols.	Est. Rev.
Gen'l fund	23	69	$22,000
R'ds and br'ges	12	36	10,000
Hospital	6	18	4,800
Sinking fund	4	12	4,000
Total,	45	135	40,800

With this proviso that if the election for good roads is decided in favor of the bond issue, then in that event the Commissioners are authorized to eliminate the tax of 12 cents property and 36 poll tax and substitute therefor a tax of 5 cents on property and 15 cents on poll as a special road sinking and interest fund, making the total tax for county for all purposes 38 cents on property and $1.14 on the poll.

In connection with the bond issue election, the act passed by the Legislature is mandatory upon the Commissioners to order such an election, which has been done.

As to the results thereof and its effects, if decided against the issue would mean the payment yearly of sufficient taxes to continue the road work i. e., about $10,000 and even this would not allow the work to be done in the most economy, as if decided in favor of the issue, the latter would give available funds for working a much larger force than we now have or can maintain and they could be worked under the supervision of same paid employes we now have, which would of course reduce the net cost of road material and an increased force would enable us to keep the machinery and quarry at work all the time, whereas now we can only work one at a time.

As to the economy of paying interest, the Treasurer has made arrangements, whereby interest will be paid by the savings banks of this city on funds derived from said bonds while same is on deposit.

Although, if it is decided to issue the bonds, the Commissioners will carefully consider whether it is best to sell the bonds at once or sell only as funds are needed. This question is merely a matter of calculation as to whether the premium we would derive from sale of the bonds in one block together with the interest (4 per cent) from the savings banks would more than off set the saving of interest by not issuing the bonds except as funds are needed.

We think the increased taxes derived from property improvised by building the roads will nearly or quite pay the interest on the bonds.

Last year the levy was 46½ cents on personal property and 52½ on real estate, with poll tax $1.40. This year the real and personal property levy is made uniform and less than last year. The poll levy is also less. The meeting adjourned sine die.

THE $50,000 BOND ISSUE.

Read This If You Are Interested in the Bond Election.

Remember these facts: Unless you register anew your vote will not count either way in the bond election to be held June 18th.

If you wish to vote for the issuance of the bonds for county road improvement you must both register and vote.

If you are opposed to the issuance of the bonds ($50,000) you must register. Then your vote will count against bonds, whether polled or not. It requires a majority of the registered vote, not a majority of the vote cast, to authorize the bond issue.

Do not overlook the fact that an entirely new registration is required for this special election.

Another Atlanta Excursion.

Messrs I. S. Mitchell, G. S. Prior, B. E. Gardner, W. E. Adamson and Geo. H. Sims, constituting a committee from the Retail Grocers' Association, of Atlanta, arrived in the city yesterday via the Seaboard Air Line and went down to Wrightsville at 2:30 P. M., with a view to running an excursion here on or about June 26th. They were accompanied by Mr. H. S. Leard and Capt. T. D. Meares, of the S. A. L. and Mr. B. F. King, of the Chamber of Commerce Committee. The Atlanta gentlemen spent the night at the Seashore and will return home to day.

Marriage Last Night.

Mr. James E. Hall and Miss Leonorah Piner were quietly married at the residence of the bride's parents, No. 108 Castle street, last night, Rev. Dr. Calvin S. Blackwell officiating. This is a very popular couple of young people, and quite a number of their friends were present with heartiest congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. Hall will reside on Front and Church streets.

On account of the annual convention of the Southern Industrial Association at Philadelphia, June 11th-14th, the A. C. L. announces a rate of one fare for the round trip. Through Pullman buffet sleeping cars on all through trains. Tickets sold June 9th and 10th with final limit June 17th. †

It's a long lane that has no turning, and the crook was certainly our way yesterday, the Giants, with Vorhees on the slab, having won from the Shipbuilders ten to two. It would have been a shut-out if Vorhees had received the support in the ninth inning that his work merited. As it was, with two men down, dumb playing allowed two Shipbuilders to cross the rubber and he was deprived of the "skunk" that Ashenback had already conceded by leaving the bench.

A phenomenal one-hand catch by Devlin in right, a beautiful stop by "Davy" at second, Clayton's work at short and Vorhees' fine pitching were easily the features of the game.

In the first inning Deisel and Gilligan went out from Vorhees and Weddige got first on Warren's error and third on Cranston's wild throw; Foster went out from second. For the Giants, Clayton singled and scored on Cranston's sacrifice and Crockett's safe hit; Crockett was caught trying second and Stafford went over third for two bags; Sebring went out from the infield. In the second the Shipbuilders would have scored on singles by Ashenback and Curtis but for Devlin's fast handling of Johnson's single to right, throwing out Ashenback at home plate. Ostein and Hempleman had fanned in the meantime. For the Giants free passes were given Devlin and McGinnis; Warren sacrificed and on Vorhees' single, Devlin was caught at home. A single by Clayton scored Vorhees and McGinnis and, Clayton was caught at home on Cranston's single.

The third did not materialize a run for the visitors and when the Giants came up Ashenback relieved Johnson in the box and High went to centre. Crockett went out to first; Stafford drew four balls; Sebring flew out to right; Devlin singled; Warren walked and the bases were full. Ashenback went up in a balloon and McGinnis walked forcing Stafford home. Vorhees went out from third. One, two, three order for the Shipbuilders in the fourth and Clayton got a pass; Cranston singled; "Davy" climed the funeral pyre and Clayton and Cranston scored on Stafford's two bagger; Sebring caught one of Ashenback's finest for two bags and Stafford scored; Devlin hit to short and Sebring was caught going to third; Warren flew out to center.

High and Deisel went out from the infield in the fifth; Gilligan got a two base hit, but Weddige went out from Clayton. The Giants then experienced their first inning without a score and the sixth came on with an out from "Davy" for Foster; a perambulation for Ash; a single by Ostein and a force-out by Hempleman and an out from short by Curtis. For Wilmington Cranston went out from third; Crockett singled; Stafford got first on Deisel's error and on Sebrings single, Crockett scored; Devlin was hit by pitcher and Warren forced Clayton at home; Sebring scored on a wild pitch and McGinnis went out to pitch. A single by High was all the Shipbuilders got in the seventh and the Giants came up with Vorhees, out to pitcher, and Clayton, out on pop foul to Foster; Cranston walked and Ashenback made a beastly throw to first upon which Cranston scored. Ash got excruciatingly funny then and with Crocket at bat he threw a ball away up over the fence. E Gilligan at short remonstrated with Ash for his reckless humor at the expense of the team and though the remonstration must have been very mild, Ashenback sent him to the bench for "two or three days," as he said, but Gilligan got his effects and left the grounds, ostensibly for home. He left on the same train with the team, however, last night. When Ash caught his breath, he allowed Crockett to walk and Stafford flew out to right. Newport News and Wilmington went out in their order in the eighth and the ninth came up and Hempleman flew out to right and Curtis fanned. Then came a bunch of hits by High, Deisel, Johnson and Weddige, which netted two runs after two men were down. At least two of the hits above could have been cut off had the fast fielding of the eight previous innings been kept up. Cranston behind the bat did exceptionally fine work and made the record of sticking his fingers in six successive tip fouls.

The Horse Editor Feels Like a Two-Year Old.

— Now for the Norfolk Skippers.

— Three will be a hot game to-day.

— "Redeemed, regenerated and dis enthralled."

— That was a dandy left-hand catch of a "fly" in right field by Devlin.

— Mr. Clarke was in good trim and umpired the game in a highly satisfactory manner.

— "Oh! catch that 'fly,' Crockett," came from a chorus of rooteresses. And he caught it.

— The Giants played in their old form. There was snap and ginger all through the game.

— If our boys play with Norfolk as they played yesterday we ought to make it two out of three.

— Give the boys a rousing reception at the Park to-day to show that their fine work of yesterday is appreciated.

— The STAR is authorized to state that no member of the Wilmington team has "signed" with any other team.

— "Cousin Sam" appeared yesterday in a straw hat. It is a lovely Summer creation. He calls it a base ball hat.

— Notwithstanding the pessimism of the croakers there was an excellent attendance both of rooters and rooteresses.

— The crew of the "Mary Jane" will get into these waters to day. Even Ashenback predicts that we'll get two out of three with the Skippers.

— The ornithological editor of the Raleigh Post, who makes a specialty of Red Birds and Martins, must be suffering the pangs of poetic justice this morning. Requiescat in pace."

— "Brownie" Foreman, it is said, will go up to Dunn, N. C., to pitch a game for the local team there. He is still with the Wilmington Giants, however, and will be heard from later.

— You see, advertising in the STAR always brings what is asked for. Not long since we advertised for a team to beat Wilmington. It came like a shot out of a shovel. Yesterday we advertised for one to beat Newport News. It reported for duty promptly.

HANOVER SEASIDE CLUB.

Formal Opening Last Night Was a Decided Success—Bowling Alley Contest.

The formal opening of Hanover Seaside Club at Carolina Beach yesterday and last night was attended by a full measure of success and was a source of much pleasure to the many club members and their friends, who were guests of the occasion. There was dancing all day and a bountiful supply of most delightful refreshments.

In the bowling alley contest Mr. H. Gieschen won the first prize, a handsome bath suit, having made a perfect score. Mr. J. G. L. Gieschen won the second prize, a silk umbrella, having scored twenty-nine out of a possible thirty points.

The trips on the steamer Wilmington were especially enjoyable and the schedule was admirably arranged by Capt. Harper, the clever master.

LOCOMOTIVE EXPLODED.

Accident Near Nashville, N. C.—Engineer Killed and Others Injured.

[Special Star Telegram.]

NASHVILLE, N. C., June 5.—A material train, loaded with cross ties, was wrecked and almost demolished about one mile below the station here to-day. Engineer Brown was instantly killed. His body was dreadfully mangled and mutilated; his head being entirely blown off; but his hand was found upon the throttle of the exploded engine. The fireman is severely injured, and the switchman was probably fatally injured. The cars broke loose from the locomotive and the engineer, endeavoring to keep out of reach of the approaching cars, the engine jumped the track, went so high as to get over the top of the telegraph wire, and exploded, causing the terrible wreck.

SEWERAGE PROBLEM.

Two Hours' Discussion by Aldermen in Special Session Availed Nothing.

DISPOSAL PLANT PERMIT.

It Was the Cause of a Vigorous Speech by Mayor in Reply to Resolution.—Municipal Ownership and Sewerage Commission Suggested.

For two long hours the Board of Aldermen wrestled with the sewerage proposition last night and when adjournment was reached, the status of affairs was no more definite than when the meeting began.

Mayor Waddell presided and each member was in his seat, when the Board was called to order. The Clerk read the original proposition of Mr. Darby, offering, under conditions, $10,000 for a franchise and a supplemental proposition, giving the city the power to purchase the plant under the same conditions as those offered by the Wilmington Sewerage Company. Upon motion of Alderman Harriss, the communication went to the Sewerage Committee. Mayor Waddell then stated that in accordance with a written request of seven members of the Board, he had called the special meeting and now awaited its pleasure.

Mr. West then raised the point of order that Mr. Bailey's motion to reconsider the matter of approval of the plans of the Wilmington Sewerage Company was not in order, upon the ground that he did not ask to have his vote recorded in the affirmative at the original meeting until after the vote was announced, and upon the further ground that the Board did not grant him the right to so change. The records were appealed to, and in the absence of objection at the time, the Mayor did not sustain Mr. West.

Mr. Johnson then offered a resolution, which contained the "milk in the cocoanut," to the effect that the Mayor and Superintendent of Health be ordered to revoke their action in granting a permit to the Wilmington Sewerage Company to begin work on its disposal plant in the extreme northeastern section of the city, after authority to grant permits for certain excavations had been delegated to these officials at Monday night's meeting.

Mayor pro-tem West was called to the chair and Mayor Waddell made a speech defending his position and that of Dr. Harper. He traced the history of the much talked of excavation ordinance of a few weeks ago and of the action of Monday night's meeting in granting he and Dr. Harper the authority, which they had exercised. The excavations he said in the disposal plant instance were not to dig for sewerage or to lay pipes, but to construct a building a mile from the City Hall and a half mile from all habitation—to remove about two feet of sand at a point beyond where the vilest of city garbage is left by carts in the city cleaning service. He went on to say that before granting the permit, the Board of Health had been called together as a safeguard and the physicians and other members of same had unanimously agreed that the public health would not be endangered by the excavations asked for. If it was the purpose of the Board to hold up the work, for other than healthful interests or in the interests of another sewerage company, he gave the Board warning that he washed his hands clear of any litigation that would follow an attempt of that character. The Mayor concluded by saying, he considered the resolution a rebuke and one which he could not ignore, hence his plain-spoken statemens.

A motion was then made that the Mayor's action be endorsed, but the vote stood five to five. Messrs. Bailey, Johnson, Mann, Harriss and Von Glahn voting nay. The Mayor refused to cast the deciding vote on a question pertaining to himself and a second vote was called for by Mr. Maunder with no change of result.

Alderman Johnson then offered a resolution emphasizing the importance of a sanitary sewerage system and providing for a submission of the question of municipal ownership of a plant to a popular vote of the city. The resolution was put to the meeting and a five to five vote resulted, the Mayor voting nay and explaining his action in so doing.

A vote was then called upon the original motion of Mr. Johnson in regard to the disposal plant, but after some further discussion, the motion was withdrawn.

Alderman Bailey then moved that his motion to reconsider the approval of the plans of the Wilmington Sewerage Company be deferred until the next meeting and it was so ordered.

Mr. Darby then addressed the Board at some length upon his proposition for the establishment of a system and was followed by Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy, counsel for the Wilmington Sewerage Company. Mr. Bellamy was followed by Brooke G. Empie, Esq., counsel for Mr. Darby, and upon the conclusion of his remarks, Mr. Bailey moved that a Sewerage Commission be appointed and composed of two Aldermen, one member of the Audit and Finance Board, one citizen, a member of neither board, and a fifth member of the commission to be chosen by the four other members and to be a sanitary engineer, to determine and advise the Board of Aldermen as to the best system of sewers to be established. This motion was lost and soon afterwards the Board adjourned.

THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 6.

NORTHERN VIEWS OF THE NEGRO.

Within the past few years the views of the particular "friends" of the negro in the North have undergone a decided change, and for some reason they have come to understand the negro and the negro question better. It is true we still hear some talk about the "rights" of the negro and some criticism of the movement in Southern States to restrict the ballot, but there is comparatively little of that when we remember how, not so many years ago, the Republican politicians and organs howled and demanded political equality for the negro with the white man, and the persistent attempts that were made to force this equality. There is little of that now although there are some politicians who threaten to punish the States which adopt restricted suffrage by reducing their representation in Congress and in the electral college. The reason, and about the only reason, why there is any protest against the South's settling this question in her own way is on account of the negro votes in some of the Northern States, where in close elections the negroes hold the balance of power.

When we speak of the particular "friends of the negroes in the North" we, of course, mean the Republicans, for the Democrats of the North never played fool on that question and have stood by the South in holding that indiscriminate negro suffrage is an outrage, and that the South ought to be allowed to settle that question in the way that she deems best.

But there has been with the mass of the Republicans and with the large majority of the Republican organs a radical change on that question and they no longer get excited and rabid when the "brother in black" is not recognized as the equal of the white man. Possibly the large influx of negroes into Northern States has had something to do with this change, by throwing the races so much closer together and giving the white man up there a better opportunity to study the negro at close range, to see the living, breathing negro in the flesh and not the negro of fiction and of emotional sentiment. And perhaps the "object lessons" to which we have called attention from time to time when the mob was invoked to punish the crimes of black brutes may have had something to do with it, but certain it is that the "man and the brother" does not fill the place in the Northern Republican mind that he did a few years ago. It is morally certain, too, that if the North forty years ago knew as much about the negro as it knows now there never would have been much if any agitation of the negro problem which precipitated the war between the States and created the other problems with which the country has since been perplexed and which are yet but partially solved.

Another thing is quite apparent and that is that the country is coming to the conviction that the South best understands the negro, the negro problem and how to solve it. It may be observed, also, that while the Democratic papers show much less disposition to discuss it than the Republican papers do, the latter discuss it in an entirely different spirit from that which characterized their discussions some years ago. Many of them candidly admit that the Southern white people are better friends of the negro than they can hope to find in the North and that the best place for the negro is in the South, where he is best understood, his good and weak points best known and where there is the most indulgence for his weakness and even for his folly, when it does not grow into viciousness that makes him intolerable, an outcast and an outlaw. In speaking of this the Boston Herald says:

"The place of the negro is in the South. He is better off there than in the Northern cities, and to remove him entirely from the country is impracticable, if it were desirable. It is clear, also, to our mind, that the South needs him where he is, admitting all his faults. He is the natural laborer in that section, and to deprive the South of him in that capacity would be to take from her what is vitally essential to her prosperity.

This is a Boston view of it and is, as far as the negro's being better off in the South than in the North, correct, although it is far from being beyond question that he is the South's "natural laborer" or the best labor for the South which in its present condition it is essential labor for the reason that there is not a sufficiency of other labor to take its place, and this makes it necessary for the time being.

Rev. Dr. Abbott, of Brooklyn, gave expression to the same idea when in an address a few weeks ago, in which he discussed the race question incidentally with other questions, he said:

"The race problem is not radically different in South or North. It is substantially the same thing. The negro in the little log cabin in the South is better off than the negro in the North in a tenement with fifty more of his kind."

If he is the right kind of a negro, industrious and rightly disposed, and has sense enough to know when he is best off, he will be much better off in his "little log cabin" than he would be in the North, where he has his race difficulty to confront him and where the struggle to get along, save in rare exceptions, is incomparably harder than it is in the South. There may be negroes who are doing better in the North than they could have done in the South, but they are the exceptions and very few exceptions at that.

The extracts we print above are but a few of many that might be cited to show the change of sentiment in the North on the negro question.

MUST LOOK TO AMERICA.

Andrew Carnegie, who is a pretty long-headed fellow, seems to be under the impression, judging from his remarks reported in the press dispatches yesterday, that Great Britain is in more danger from a combine of the continental powers than this country is, and he is probably right. This makes the friendship of this country absolutely necessary to her, which may go a long way towards accounting for the friendly disposition shown in late years by the Britons for this country, notably in the Spanish-American war.

But this drawing together began before the Spanish-American war, for when Thomas Francis Bayard was Ambassador at London he soft sodered the British and the British in turn soft sodered the Americans, and the meetings where both participated were a sort of love feasts. Mr. Bayard went so far on that line as to evoke some pretty tart criticism by Americans who didn't have as much admiration for our British cousins as he had. The gravitating tendency has been marked ever since, a strong impetus being given to it by the prospective combining predicted by Mr. Carnegie, a belief which is doubtless shared by no small number of Englishmen.

They have realized the fact that England is a thoroughly isolated nation, without a friend among the nations, unless she can call this nation friend, and they feel that the only thing between England and assault by other nations is her great navy, with which none of them single-handed can cope. To do this effectively there must be combination, and coming events may favor that and make it practicable.

In that event Great Britain would be in a sorry plight without some strong arm to rely upon, and hence she looks across the Atlantic to the only power that she hasn't thoroughly alienated and that doesn't thoroughly hate her.

NORTH CAROLINA MARBLE.

We found the following a few days ago in the Charlotte Observer:

The following letter comes to a gentleman in this city from a Boston architect:

"22 DEVONSHIRE ST.,
"BOSTON, MASS.

"Dear Sir: I have your favor of the 10th inst., and am much obliged to you for your kind remembrance regarding my inquiry about marbles and the companies in the South who might further them. The addresses that you send I notice are all the Tennessee marbles, of which I have already used a large amount, and with whose stone I am familiar.

"My inquiry made when you were in Boston referred more especially to some marble of great beauty, samples of which were shown in Boston, ten or fifteen years ago at an exhibition, and which came from North Carolina, as I remember it. I suppose they came from up among the hills. I suppose however, not having heard from them since nor seen any notice of them that the quarries cannot have been opened."

From the above it would seem as though it would pay somebody in the State to take hold of the development of these sppecial marbles.

There are in Cherokee county, in this State, practically unexhaustible deposits of marble, of fine quality and of numerous varieties, from the snow white to the ebony black, with various shades between, and combinations of colors. There were some years ago, and doubtless are yet, in the State museum at Raleigh, specimens of forty different kinds of marble, all from this one county, and it is more than likely that exploration would show its presence in adjoining counties. But whether or not, there is enough in that one county to form the basis of an immense industry.

The owners of marble properties in Georgia and Tennessee are active in bringing their marbles before the builders in other States, with the result that Georgia quarries have secured some big contracts for their stone in Boston, Providence, New York, Philadelphia, Washington and other cities in which it is being or has been used in the construction of imposing public and private buildings. We don't know so much about the Tennessee marble but we suppose that it is finding a market outside of the State, judging from this letter in the Observer.

It has been a matter of surprise to us that no effort has been made to open and develop those Cherokee quarries, which cannot be so far from transportation facilities as to make that impracticable. Perhaps our people are waiting for some hustler to come down from the North, buy them with a little money and get rich out of them.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Charlotte Observer: Mr. Chas. Mitchell, who lives on the farm of Mr. J. H. Sadler, 11 miles from town, has a 9 acre field of very fine wheat. Those who have seen it think that the yield will be between 25 and 30 bushels per acre. It is almost, if not quite, as good as Mr. Oliver's wheat.

— Statesville Landmark: Sunday a hen belonging to Major Clegg laid a fine large egg. Yesterday the egg was cooked—boiled—and when it was opened another complete egg, covered with a firm, sound shell, was found inside. An egg within an egg is something unusual even in egg curiosities.

— Monroe Journal: Mr. John H. Boston sold and caused to be sold in Union county last year about 75,000 fruit cans. That means 75,000 quarts of fruit, vegetables and berries saved that otherwise would have been lost. At ten cents a can, the value of this fruit, etc., is $7,500. More fruit and vegetables were saved in the county last year than in five preceding years, and nearly all this has been and is being consumed by the producers.

— Durham Sun: Mrs. W. G. Branham, of "Pineapple Villa," was very much frightened yesterday morning when she opened a drawer to a dressing case and found in it a large gray squirrel. How it got there is not known, but it was very wild and on one side was branded the word "Oswego." Mr. Branham captured his squirrelship and has it caged. He is at a loss to know how it came to take up in his dressing case. Why the squirrel is branded is also another mystery.

— Fayetteville Observer:—Fayetteville is to have a negro exhibit at the Charleston Interstate and West Indies Exposition that will be a credit to the State and to the South. Rev T. W. Thurston, Superintendent of the Ashley Bailey Silk Mill in this city, has been appointed Chief Director of the Manufacturing Department of the Negro Buildings at this great exposition. Superintendent Thurston will send several of his best machines to the exposition in charge of a number of his picked employes, and will thus give practical demonstrations of silk manufacturing by negroes. The cloth which is woven there will be cut into numerous pieces and distributed to visitors.

— Clarkton Express: We learn with regret the death of Mr. Theodore Sessoms last week at his home in Lake Creek township. He was one of Bladen county's best citizens; genial, hospitable, and a good man. —— Mr. J. M. Shipman reports that his place recently became so infested with rats that they were not only not content with eating the corn in his barn but began cutting the young corn in his field, and so many got in the wall of his dwelling his family could scarcely sleep at night on account of the noise. He first tried catching them in traps, but this was too slow. He then put out poison, but they would not eat that on account of having so much corn, etc., to eat. He finally put in his barn a large pot, filled it about half full of water, scattered a few cotton seed on the water and fixed a board across the edge of the pot. The next morning upon investigation he found 37 drowned rats in the pot.

Of these 300 are pledged to an opposing candidate, and the remainder are divided as to their favorites. A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters; and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. FERTILIZER DISTRIBUTER.

Machine For Scattering Fertiliser Rapidly and With Comfort.

Having experienced the trials of sowing fertilizers, a Rural New Yorker correspondent has devised a machine for facilitating the business both as to time and personal comfort. He tells how it is used either in drills or broadcasting:

It is a machine I got up myself. I now have a good machine to let to my neighbors and also the satisfaction of feeling that I have overcome a difficulty and am now able to do rapidly and with comfort a job which formerly was very difficult, slow and extremely unpleasant. The fertilizer is put into the hopper, from the bottom of which it drops into a central opening in the spreading disk. This disk is very obtusely conical and has chambers running from the central opening to outer edge. It is given a rapid, rotary motion, which makes it in effect a blower, a strong current of air passing in at the central opening and being discharged at edge. This current of air blows the fertilizer with considerable force in all directions, scattering it with the greatest evenness over the surface of the ground, sowing a strip about 6½ feet wide.

Over the bottom of the hopper an agitating arm rotates slowly, keeping the material in the hopper thoroughly stirred, and as the bottom of the hopper is conical the material always moves toward the central opening in bottom. To regulate the flow, or feed, this opening is controlled by a conical shaped valve, or stopper, having a vertical motion. The conical valve has a base just large enough to fill the opening in bottom of hopper when it is raised so its base is in the opening. When it is lowered, an annular opening is left for the fertilizer to pass through, and this annular opening is greater or less according as the valve is lowered much or little. This valve has also a rapid rotary motion and two pins projecting up through the outlet of hopper. The rapid rotary motion of the valve, with pins attached, makes it impossible for the outlet of hopper to get choked, and the feed is very uniform.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION FOR WEAK WOMEN.

What Weeds Do In Corn Culture.

Weeds consume plant food. If our soils were filled with an abundance of available plant food in sufficient quantity for the growth of both corn and weeds, there would be no need of such a constant warfare against the latter. The necessity for commercial fertilizers is evidence enough that our soils do not contain even plant food enough for the growing of corn to maturity.

Weeds keep sunlight and warmth from the soil. They shade the ground and keep the soil cool.

Weeds are great consumers of water. Insufficient moisture in the soil is often the only cause of a small corn crop. An abundance of water in the soil is necessary for the production of a maximum crop. If there is an insufficient amount of water in the soil, the crop will be short. The more weeds in a field the larger the amount of water consumed.—New Hampshire Station.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Shorts met with further reverses in all the speculative markets to day with Summer months bears suffering badly during the first hour of the local market. The opening was firm at an advance of four and seven points followed by a gain of five to eight points, more on a stampede of the bear forces, prompted by a sensational advance in the English market. The strong undertone here was increased by reports that New Orleans shorts were in a panic and that spot cotton markets were stiffening rapidly on urgent demand from exporters. All sorts of rumors were circulated concerning affairs in the Liverpool market; one story had it that New York buying orders started the scare, another that spinners were covering their shorts on the fear of cotton being diverted to New York otherwise intended for Europe. The trade here looked for no material change in the English market this morning and was dismayed to find that market up five points on near months before our opening. This rise was later increased to over eight points Buying orders were sent and for a time everything indicated a genuine rout of the bear forces. July led the uplift and reached 8.03 before a turn was made. August followed close behind. The new crop options worked up very readily in sympathy. Not through the balance of the session did the bears recover from their scare, though profit taking cut down the advance materially after the first hour. Receipts cut little figure as a factor. The public was a little buyer of the new crop months from time to time during the day. The close was steady, prices net two to eight points higher.

CLOTHING THE GIRLS

HOME DRESSMAKING HINTS FOR MOTHERS OF LITTLE WOMEN.

How to Make Summer Frocks That Will Be Pretty, Stylish and Serviceable—Sailor Suits and French Dresses—Wraps and Jackets.

[Copyright, 1901, by American Press Association.]

The present tendency is to have all dresses for girls as long waisted as they can be, and the Russian blouse, the sailor suit and the dress up frock are all made so. To this end also has the old fashioned dress been revived, with the waist reaching quite to the hips, and this in the case of very small girls brings it so that the skirt is not over six to eight inches long. To make this absurdly long waist fit it is necessary to shape the lining over the hips.

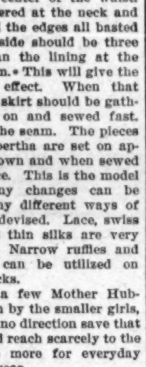

FRENCH DRESS.

In this column is a picture of one of these, but one of the least pronounced ones. The lining is cut and fitted to the little body and has a decided flare at the hips, and to this the skirt is sewed with gathers. The front is pouched and gathered in much the same style as the garments of the older girls' dresses, so as to have the effect of the long waist. The back is cut smooth and closes with buttons and buttonholes.

The dress in the illustration is made with a medium low neck and short, puffed sleeves, but many frocks intended for summer wear are cut quite low on the shoulders. Guimpes may be worn, but the present outlook is that they will not. This style of shape is adapted to all the seasonable goods, and these are chambray, gingham, percale, pique, dimity, galatea and many of the fine woolen and silk and woolen stuffs, albatross and veilings. Many of the small dresses have berthas and are most often cut in turret shape, so that they are easy to make and easy to iron, for most dresses now being made are calculated to be washed. A sash belt is another necessary adjunct, and this may be of some contrasting color or of ribbon. There is a decided movement toward the use of much ribbon on children's dresses, especially these long waisted things. A wide sash is passed around the lower edge of the waist and fastened by straps of the dress material or by fancy pins. It is tied in an immense bow with short ends at the back. To cut this waist lining take a fold of whatever lining may be used—white muslin is best for wash dresses—and lay two darts in the front. The sides are sloped out. Baste the lining in and try on and "pinch" it in until it sets smoothly over the hip and right across the chest. Then rip it, trim off the surplus and take the outside and fold the center over so that it makes four inches on each side of the center of the waist. This is then gathered at the neck and at the bottom and the edges all basted around. The outside should be three inches longer than the lining at the front at the bottom. This will give the desired pouched effect. When that part is ready, the skirt should be gathered and basted on and sewed fast. The sash covers the seam. The pieces which form the bertha are set on apparently upside down and when sewed fall over into place. This is the model from which many changes can be evolved, and many different ways of trimming can be devised. Lace, swiss and some of the thin silks are very dainty made so. Narrow ruffles and fine embroidery can be utilized on these French frocks.

There will be a few Mother Hubbard dresses worn by the smaller girls, and these require no direction save that they are short and reach scarcely to the knee. They are more for everyday than for dressy wear.

The sailor suit for every day and school is too well known to need much explanation, but one thing new about it is that the whole dress is made in one piece from neck to the bottom. The frock is laid in plaits, which are fastened down to the waist line, and from there they fall free, which brings the fullness to the skirt. There is a belt which droops low and holds the plaits in place. This is sometimes of undressed leather, but most often is of the dress material, with some braid stitched upon it. This must be made stiff with lining and much stitching. To these suits the sailor collar belongs and should be made of the material of the dress and bound with wide linen bands. The sailor knot is of the white linen and hemmed with a narrow hem. This collar should be made so that it can be taken off when the weather is so warm as to make it oppressive.

SAILOR BLOUSE SUIT.

To make a sailor suit like the one in the illustration requires four yards of 36 inch stuff and a quarter of a yard of linen. This is for a girl of 8.

OLIVE HARPER.

London Has Forbidden Gates.

There are two gates in London which it is an honor equal to the star of an order to be allowed to drive through. One is the gate in the arch of the Horse guards, and the other is that of the Marble arch. The Horse guards' arch is guarded by a stalwart trooper, who stands in the way of any carriage that attempts to go through and should the occupants not have the right to pass turns it back. The bishop of London, it may be remembered, was stopped once by a sentry who did not know that his lordship is one of the privileged persons. When there is any disputed claim, if the occupant of the vehicle who wishes to go through the arch has patience enough to wait, he can remain until one of the high court officials has given his decision, according to immemorial custom.—London Telegraph.

Earth Impoverished by the Sea.

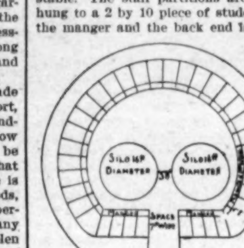

A muddy river betokens one of the greatest of national losses. It means that the rich soil, which Jack Frost and other national agencies have been ages in forming, is washing away into the ocean. Tillers of the land could do much to prevent the loss by keeping the ground on the hillsides covered with trees or with sod. It is the cultivated field on a slant which washes away most rapidly. It is contrary to public policy, or at least to the welfare of the future, that the top soil of such land should be sent down to the ocean when it might be yielding grass crops. Many rivers that are now muddy were clear before the coming to this continent of civilized man.—Youth's Companion.

ROUND BARNS.

Advantages Claimed For a Round Barn Inclosing Round Silos.

Drawing some comparisons between the round and the square barn, Colonel F. D. Curtis of Wisconsin writes to The National Stockman and Farmer as follows: A neighbor is building one of the square order, 30 by 60 feet, stone basement, stalls for 36 cattle, frame about 20 feet high to roof, requiring 7,000 feet of lumber for frame. It is 180 feet around it and has an area of 1,800 feet. A round barn 60 feet in diameter may have a stone basement and same height above, more or less. It will not take half as much lumber for its frame nor half as much labor to frame and put it up and be vastly stronger when completed. The area or space it incloses is 2,700 feet—half as much again as the square one compared with, and the area of the walls will be the same. It will give space for 40 to 45 cattle stalls instead of 36 in the square barn, room for two round silos 16 feet each in diameter, if properly filled holding not less than 300 tons, located as near as possible in the center of the circle of the stock to consume the silage, saving more than half of the labor of feeding silage when stored outside the stable.

The plan of basement here proposed is designed to make 30 to 50 cattle comfortable in winter. The outside circle represents the wall of the barn. Preferably I would have a circular row of stalls around the outside, but this is broken in upon to give room to drive in a horse and cart—drive around and out the same door to clean out the stable. The stall partitions are to be hung to a 2 by 10 piece of studding in the manger and the back end is to be held in place by a sort of stud button, a 2 by 4 with one bolt to confine it to the partition, the ends of the stud to slide into slots in the floor above and below, confining the cow in the stall by a chain behind her.

Preferably I would grade into a bank 16 feet high above the basement, which would give space for a room between the stable and the floor above. It will be well if we can get an eight foot bank to drive in over the basement, better if we can get 16 feet and still better if we can get 24 feet to the gable. If a ridge roof with a third pitch, it would give us about 20 feet to the ridge of the roof where we would have a hay carrier. Our silos going into the earth ten feet below the stable could stop at the top floor or could go some ten feet more to the support of the purline, "high enough to weight itself."

A silo located as here recommended is scarcely more than 20 feet from any of the stock.

Fifty Cents a Year Less Than a Penny a Number

THE SOUTH'S LITERARY WEEKLY

Published at Atlanta, Ga.

After a career of more or less activity in the Southern field for over a quarter of a century The Sunny South has again become a weekly, better and more readable than at any time in its history. It contains serial stories from the best known authors the world over. It is devoted to Southern readers and Southern writers and is their own story paper. Short stories, sketches, incidents of war and of peace, anecdotes at home and afield, poems, ideas, fashions, hints for home keepers, everything of interest to old and young will appear in its excellent weekly make up.

The two great serials, "TRISTRAM OF BLENT," by ANTHONY HOPE (now in progress with full synopsis to cover former installments), and "Rosalynde's Lovers," by Maurice Thompson, to begin April 27th, will be read with absorbing interest throughout the whole South. This is your opportunity, and only 50 cents for a full year of it. Think of it! 50 cents.

Subscription price is only fifty cents a year. No agents' commission. The paper is its own best offer and argument to the subscriber. THE LATEST AS TO NERVES AND STRENGTH

It is not muscle so much as the nerves back of muscle which show one's strength and power of endurance. And the study with able physicians of to-day is how to keep the nerves in perfect health and fitted for the strain of every-day living. Headache of every type, nerve weakness, dyspepsia, sleeplessness, languor, restlessness, nervous dyspepsia, muscular weakness, brain weariness, poor circulation,—a thousand different unpleasant feelings and symptoms are due to nerve waste and nerve weakness,—especially in women and children. But how can all this be prevented, one will ask? How can my broken-down constitution be repaired, and nerve strength and full, robust health be secured. Just two points to remember: Determine that you will grow strong in nerves and health, and decide to use at once that most famous nerve cure, COCELIN. It is delicious in taste, quick in action and makes the wearied nerves tingle with renewed strength and every function the stronger and faculty the brighter by its use. Druggists sell it.

The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 6.

U. S. MILITARY ACADEMY.

Newly Appointed Cadets Report for Examination—Two Summary Dismissals From the Academy.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 5.—Two cadets, members of the coming first class, were summarily dismissed from the United States military academy to day. They were Stephen B. Verner, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Chas. S. Perry, of Iowa. They were court martialed upon a charge of having falsely obtained permission to leave the post. This permission having been granted them, they were subsequently detected by an army officer drinking at a bar in Newburgh. They were dismissed without travel pay and started for home immediately.

Fifty-six of the fifty nine young men who were appointed cadets to the military academy since March 1st last reported for their examinations to day. Among the newly appointed cadets are: O. S. Albright, Tennessee; L. S. Arnold, Arkansas; Hugh H. Broadhurst, North Carolina; D. H. Crenshaw, Kentucky; J. S. Dusenbury, South Carolina; R. I. Howard, North Carolina; T. W. By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—Word has been received at the machinists' headquarters here from A. M. Reddy, business agent at Fernandina, Fla., announcing that non-union men are being shipped from this city to take the places of striking machinists in the South. Mr. Reddy's letter, dated Fernandina, is as follows:

"They are getting men in Philadelphia to come down here, representing to them that they are to be given employment a few miles south of Baltimore. When the men are under way they are kept guarded and landed at Americus, Ga., Savannah and Fernandina. There have been two car loads shipped here in that way."

The letter further states that the imported men are housed in passenger coaches on the company's property at Fernandina, being kept under guard and not permitted to leave the premises.

NO DANGER OF EXPLOSION.

Twenty Tons of Smokeless Powder Burning Up at Mare Island.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

VALLEJO, CAL., June 5.—A magazine at the Mare Island navy yard, containing about twenty tons of smokeless powder, became ignited this morning by chemical action. The powder did not explode but generated enough gas and smoke to force the top off the magazine. The powder is now slowly burning. It is far removed from the black powder and there is no danger of an explosion. The magazine is a fine one, constructed in 1857 at a cost of several hundred dollars. It will be a total loss. It is located on the end of the island and there seems to be no danger of an explosion or of damage to any of the buildings on the island except the magazine.

IN THE NAVAL ACADEMY.

A Cadet Court Martialed and Dismissed for Hazing.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Following the example set at West Point, the superintendent of the naval academy has caused a cadet to be dismissed for hazing. In this case, however, that of Calvin Joy Cressey, of the fourth class, of California, the accused was tried by court martial and regularly convicted.

The details of the court martial are not made public, but it is understood that the dismissed cadet was discovered in the act of hazing a junior in his room by compelling him to stand on his head. It was suspected that the practice might spread rapidly, so speedy and drastic action was had as a deterent.

SENSATIONAL DEVELOPMENT.

In the Senatorial Tangle That Has Sprung Up in South Carolina.

GOVERNOR WRITES TILLMAN.

Tells Him That He Will Accept His Resignation If It is Unconditional—The Senator Has Withdrawn His Resignation.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

COLUMBIA, S. C., June 5.—Decidedly the most sensational development in the Senatorial tangle in this State is a letter which Governor McSweeney sent to Senator Tillman to day. In his communication the Governor informed Senator Tillman that if he "still wishes to resign and will send to this office an unconditional resignation I will exercise the authority and power vested in me by the people." This means that the Governor will accept Senator Tillman's resignation if it shall be formulated on that line. The letter is as follows:

Sir—Your letter of June 1 has been received. I have carefully noted its contents and the most charitable view which I can take of it is that it was written in the heat of passion and without due consideration. I note that you say that I have "transcended my authority," and that the Governor "cannot compel a member of the United States Senate to hold his commission and exercise the functions of that office if he chooses to surrender it and that you decline for the present to withdraw your resignation. Had you read carefully my letter addressed to you and to Senator McLaurin, you must have seen that I did not express any desire to compel a member of the United States Senate to hold his commission and exercise the functions of that office if he chose to surrender it. My sole purpose in returning the resignations was to ask you gentlemen to consider calmly and thoughtfully the consequences to the people of what I judged to be a hasty act, and what you admit to have been a hasty act, and I must confess that I am somewhat surprised at the tone of your answer to my request. I considered the course which I took in this matter to be for the best interest of the people of South Carolina, and I am responsible to them alone for my action, and, furthermore, I still believe that my course has met the approval of a majority of the citizens of the State; nor do I consider them unthinking citizens, but men who know and recognize as fully as any people on earth the rights and duties and responsibilities of citizenship, and who do not need the services of any one to tell them their duty. Your insinuation that I have been 'imporiuned' to 'await the convenience' of any present or would-be aspirants who 'are not just yet ready for various reasons to enter the contest brought on so unexpectedly and that for this reason my action has taken the direction it has,' is unworthy of a man holding the high commission which has been given you by the people of South Carolina and deserves no notice in this direction. However, I may say for your benefit, that I alone am responsible for my reply, and give account for the course I have taken to the people who have honored me, and not to any one individual. In this matter I have done what I thought best calculated to promote the present prosperity and contentment of the people of my State, and shall continue to do so, regardless of what any one may say or think of my course. I did not think that a political campaign this Summer could do any good, and acted accordingly to my belief. However, had the resignations been unconditional and unrestricted my action might have been otherwise. With due respect for your opinion, I think I have as high conception of the office of Senator and its powers as you or any other citizen of this State, and you must have known that the brief interview to which you refer meant that I would simply meet the responsibility and perform my duty under the conditions. If you still wish to resign your commission and will send to this office an unconditional resignation, I will exercise the authority and power vested in me by the people.

Respectfully, etc.,
M. D. McSWEENEY, Governor.

COLUMBIA, S. C., June 5.—With the Governor's "last word" at Senator Tillman and the withdrawal of the Senator's resignation, all would seem to be over, but to night Senator McLaurin, after speaking very bitterly of the senior Senator, made the declaration that if Tillman will now tender to the Governor the unconditional surrender of his office, he (McLaurin) would consider this a direct challenge to him, and would likewise resign and enter the contest for Tillman's place.

Tillman Withdraws Resignation.

COLUMBIA, S. C., June 5.—Senator Tillman, protesting against the Governor's right to reject the Senatorial resignations, has withdrawn his resignation. In his letter to Governor McSweeney, Senator Tillman said:

"I have Senator McLaurin's communication in which he graciously consents at your request to 'hold on to his commission as United States Senator and continue to serve the State, as he has done in the past, to the best of his ability.'

"This leaves me one of three alternatives. To appeal to the Democratic Executive Committee to take the matter up and determine what the best interest of the party requires to be done; to appeal to the Senate itself to determine the question as to whether a resignation from that body, to take effect at some future time, is binding; or withdraw my own resignation. There are no precedents on this subject because in the hundred and twenty-five years of our national life with over two hundred resignations from the Senate, no Senator has hitherto been willing to occupy the despicable attitude now assumed by Senator McLaurin and forced on me. I am certain of one thing—that the executive of a State has no authority to decline a resignation that has been tendered, and I am equally certain that if your Excellency confined your action within legal bounds, that your appointees would be seated in the Senate when that body meets in December, and hold their seats until the Legislature should act in January. My chief regret is that I am forced by your action to engage in what the outside world will consider a game of opera bouffe, by withdrawing my own resignation after Senator McLaurin's undignified and puerile action; but the purpose for which it was tendered has been thwarted by Senator McLaurin's precipitous acceptance of executive advice. Bob Acres has been outdone for once. I have already said I had no motive or purpose in resigning except to force McLaurin, and there is nothing for me to do but accept the situation and withdraw my own resignation, if it be lawful to do so."

BANQUET TO AMERICAN VISITORS IN LONDON.

Speeches Teemed With Friendliness and Faith in Establishment of Permanent Friendly Relations.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, June 5.—The banquet tendered by the London Chamber of Commerce to the delegates of the New York Chamber, at Grocers' Hall tonight, was one of the handsomest affairs of the kind ever given in a city famed for lavish hospitality. No effort was spared to honor the American guests, but it must be confessed that the latter did not sustain the reputation America has for brilliant after-dinner speaking. Nor did the British speakers do much to relieve the tedium of four hours' speaking.

All the speeches, however, teemed with extreme friendliness and faith in the establishment of permanent friendly relations. All the speakers expressed the belief that Great Britain and the United States would rule the destinies of the world, and that their unwritten alliance would always work for peace and the benefit of man kind.

Lord Brassey presided. On his right was Mr. Choate and on his left Lord Landowne. Morris K. Jesup, Andrew Carnegie, Cornelius N. Bliss, Mr. Griscom, Levi P. Morgan and J. Pierpont Morgan were among those seated at the table of honor. In all nearly 300 were present. In welcoming the delegates Lord Brassey, who made the first speech, referred to the debt Great Britain owed to the New York Chamber of Commerce at the time the Venezuela difficulty arose, and said he desired to mark Great Britain's deep sense of the service rendered. "To no other nation," he continued, "are we drawn as we are to our kinsmen across the Atlantic. The wisely directed friendship of our two peoples—not as yet, and perhaps never to be, cemented by formal alliance—should be a potent influence. Working together for the common good of all mankind, we may keep open the door for trade, we may spread civilization, we may protect the oppressed and we may establish peace among the nations."

There was a murmur of expectancy as Lord Lansdowne, the foreign secretary, rose to toast President McKinley. "I imagine," he said, "that this honorable duty has been assigned to me because I am connected with the department of foreign affairs, and because it may be that a toast coming from my lips, may seem to denote something more than a private expression of admiration and good will. I think I may say to all the subjects of his majesty it requires an effort to think of our relations with the United States as foreign relations (prolonged cheers). All those who, like myself, are servants of the public, feel that they hold an unwritten commission that no pains shall be spared to maintain the most friendly relations.

"With regard to President McKinley, we think of the great office he fills, and in addition to his public cares, we remember the burdon of private anxiety he has to bear, and it is the prayer of our whole country that his wife may be restored to health and that he may continue to be to the whole world a potent influence for the good of the human race."

GIRL STRIKERS IN A RIOT.

Another Outbreak at Passaic's Handkerchief Factory—Mob Dispersed by Firemen With a Line of Hose.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, June 5.—There was another outbreak on the part of the girl strikers at Acheson-Harden Company's handkerchief factory at Passaic, N. J., to-day. The force of policemen on guard at the factory had been reduced to two. The strikers took advantage of this and made a fierce attack not only on the girls who reported for work but on the factory itself. Volleys of stones were thrown at the building and a number of windows were smashed. The two police men charged on the strikers but were received with a shower of stones. A call was made to headquarters for reinforcement.

The police arrested three of the girl strikers and one man, who tried to rescue the girls from the hands of the police. The prisoners were hurried into a patrol wagon, which started at a rapid rate for police headquarters, a mob numbering 300 following the wagon, hooting and yelling at the police and throwing stones. The mob pursued the wagon the whole way to headquarters, and after the prisoners had been rushed inside the building they stormed the doors, but were unable to effect an entrance. The engine house of fire company No. 1 is in the same building with the police headquarters, and the police finding that the mob showed no disposition to disperse called upon the firemen for assistance. The latter responded, and dragging out a line of hose to the pavement soon had a powerful stream of water directed at the mob. This had the immediate effect of dispersing the crowd. The three girls and the man who were arrested were fined $5 each.

PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

Fire in a Midway Show Caused a Panic. Two Performers Injured.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 5.—A fire, which for a time threatened to assume serious proportions, occurred at the Pan-American Exposition grounds tonight. The blaze started in the Orient, a midway show. Two of the performers were badly burned while trying to extinguish the flames. Just before the theatre performance was ended, smoke was seen coming from one of the small buildings in the concession. The cry of fire almost caused a panic in the theatre. There was a mad rush for the exits, but fortunately the crowd was not large and no one was injured. The Exposition fire department responded to the alarm and the flames were extinguished.

THE GRAIN TRADE.

Steps Taken to Prevent "Corners" in Wheat and Corn.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, June, 5.—Steps were taken at to day's meeting of the grain trade of the New York Produce Exchange, to prevent any further attempts at a "corner" in wheat and corn. The president was authorized to appoint a committee of seven which will formulate rules to the extent of permitting delivery of a lower grade on contracts calling for specific quality and a fixed penalty will be imposed for any violation of the proposed rules.

VERDICT ORDERED FOR DEFENDANT.

Famous Libel Suit for $150,000 Damages Has Been Brought to a Close.

AGAINST MARY BAKER EDDY.

Founder and Present Head of the Christian Science Church—The Judge's Decision—Some of the Testimony of Witnesses.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BOSTON, MASS., June 5.—"I have examined this libel with great care, both while the arguments were going on and during the trial. I think the plaintiff has sustained her case, as I have already intimated upon the matter of publication. As regards the publication in the church, there is no evidence that any one there understood the alleged libel as applying to the plaintiff, so that she could not recover damages upon this count, because she had shown no injury from it.

"Taking the libel itself, I see nothing which can in any fair way be said to indicate the plaintiff in the first part of the libel. The only thing in the libel, it seems to me, which can by any reasonable interpretation be said to serve as means of identification are the words 'widow' and widowhood,' which occurred in the latter part of the message.

"I have come to the conclusion that even that reference does not absolutely identify the plaintiff, and it seems to me that the plaintiff has not made out a case here which I can let go to the jury. I shall, therefore, be obliged to order a verdict for the defendant."

With these words, in the Superior Court, Judge Charles U. Bell this afternoon brought to a sudden and unexpected end the famous $150,000 libel suit brought by Mrs. Josephine Curtis Woodbury, of Boston, against the Rev. Mary Baker Eddy, of Concord, N. H., the founder and present head of the Christian Science Church.

A few minutes later the jury, which had been excluded while the arguments were being made, was summoned into the court room. After explaining briefly the cause for this course, Judge Bell ordered the jury to find for the defendant, which it accordingly did in the usual form.

Counsel for Mrs. Woodbury filed exceptions on all the questions passed upon. They have not yet decided upon a definite course of action, but authorized it to be stated that they expect to carry the case to the Supreme Court.

Mr. Peabody, attorney for the plaintiff, in his argument said:

"Mrs. Eddy is the autocrat of Christian Science and has full power over the church and the publishing society. When Mrs. Eddy desired the publishing company of the society to publish and disseminate the doctrines of Christian Science as taught by her, she left it to their discretion as to what should be done with it."

Mrs. Woodbury was the first witness to day. Mr. Peabody at once plunged into the mysteries of Christian science. Taking up a communication from Mrs. Eddy in which she said that Mrs. Woodbury should remain outside of the first church of Christ until she had ceased to be controlled by M. A. M. (interpreted malicious animal magnetism) counsel asked the witness if she had ever practised 'M A. C.' which is understood to mean malicious animal control.

Mrs. Woodbury smiled as she answered "no."

One question was "What is the belief of the members of the First Church as to Mrs. Eddy, its founder?"

Mrs. Woodbury answered: "The members believe in the infallibility of Mrs. Eddy and of science and health; and that Mrs. Eddy is a woman especially designated by God to reveal the work of Christian science."

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

A KANSAS EDITOR SAYS:

"I Use Peruna in My Home as a Family Doctor."

Mr. F. A. Dixon,
810 East Tenth Street, Kansas City, Mo.

Mr. F. A. Dixon, Editor Pythian Echo says in a recent letter to Dr. Hartman: "Some two years ago I began using Peruna in my family as a family doctor, and I have been highly pleased with the result. My wife has used it for catarrh and experienced great relief. My little girl has been sick a number of times, and when we used your medicine it proved a success. I have used it myself several times and consider it a very valuable medicine. Speaking from personal observation, I consider it a good investment to keep it in my home, and believe every man who desires to relieve suffering, and at the same time save money, should investigate the real merits of your Peruna and other medicines."

In a later letter he says: "For about four years I have used Peruna in my home for myself, wife and two children, and I have saved many doctor bills. Many times a dose or two of Peruna taken in time will stop a sickness, which, if permitted to go for a day, would result in serious trouble. For grip it is splendid and can be used successfully with very young children as well as old people. I use it in my home as an all-around family doctor and when it has been given a fair trial, it has proved an excellent remedy."

SOUTH BOUND RAILROAD.

Wm. D. Melton Appointed Receiver and Takes Charge of the Property Under Judge Gage's Order.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

COLUMBIA, S. C., June 5.—William D. Melton to day qualified as receiver for the South Bound railroad. This action was unexpected. The order of Judge G. W. Gage appointing Mr. Melton receiver was issued June 1st. Mr. Melton at once took out a bond for $25,000 and yesterday appeared before the clerk of court, J. Frost Walker, and assumed the duties of the receivership.

The attorneys for the South Bound had made an appeal from Judge Gage's former ruling in which he ordered that a receiver should be appointed. The appeal could not work a stay unless the court below agrees to the stay of the order.

Mr. Melton immediately issued an order in which he takes charge of the entire South Bound road between Camden and the Georgia line. This order was dispatched to all agents along the line as well as to the general offices of the South Bound and Seaboard system. Mr. Melton is one of the most prominent lawyers in this city.
